excerpt from foundation english the expression of ideas two demands seemingly conflicting have made a new first year book in english for high schools a necessity the first being the demand of the college for better written english on the part of the entering students the second being the demand of the public for a more democratic distribution of courses than a college preparatory school offers an examination of the two demands will show however that they are after all not diametrically opposed right thinking clear and adequate expression efficiency are the reasonable and just demands both of the public and of the college neither is concerned with the method of doing the work so long as desired results are obtained the demand of the college for efficiency of expression has led to compulsory courses in english in our high schools with a corresponding increase in the number of hours required for the study no longer is it felt that only the gifted few can write it is demanded that all shall write the demand of the public on the other hand has led to the reduction of the elementary courses from nine years to eight and the introduction into the high schools of the so called vocational courses the result has been to increase enormously the size of our first year classes these people also must be taught to write in its way then the demand of the college is as utilitarian as the demand of the public about the publisher forgotten books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books find more at forgottenbooks.com this book is a reproduction of an important historical work forgotten books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy in rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition we do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
